with

AJW instructors:

John Damberg
& Mark Manners

Real-world music training with performance & theory.

Explore the Expressive Art of Jazz Improvisation in small music combos of 4-8 students this fall with Alaska Jazz Master Artists John Damberg and Mark Manners.

Meet new students who share your passion for creating and playing fun music and develop your improvisation & practical music theory skills, while building your song repertoire and learning interesting music history stories.

Beginning to advanced sections will be offered for grade 7-12 instrumental and vocal students (Depending on the number of students enrolled and their playing levels). Students will have an extensive hands-on opportunity to explore & develop their improvisation, communication, and group teaming skills. Students will be featured in two Student Recitals for each session. Fall: October 20th/December 15th, 2018.
Spring: March 2nd/May 18th, 2019.

Requirements: Students must know the notes on their instrument, be able to read music, and play the major scales. Students must attend all classes & and are required to perform in the student recital, except in the case of sickness and family or national emergencies.

The beginning section is for students who have little or no experience in improvising or playing jazz. Learning to play the blues song form and blues scales will be stressed. Students will play the blues in a variety of keys and rhythmic feels. This course will focus on developing the basic skills students need to improvise including:

- Interval recognition
- Knowledge of blues scales and the major scale modes
- Knowledge of basic chord structures
- Blues song form
- Song repertoire in different rhythmic feels

The intermediate/advanced sections are for students who have past experience improvising in a school group or the AJW beginning class. They need to prove, via a level placement audition, they have mastered the basic skills covered in the AJW beginning class listed above and can solo over the blues form. These sections focus on soloing over more advanced song forms, chord changes, and rhythmic feels.
